Services: Environmental Initiatives of North America, INC is a full-service indoor air and environmental quality consulting firm. We provide clients various services including water damage /intrusion assessments, mold testing and site evaluation, post-remediation testing and assessments, asbestos assessments, lead testing, chemical testing and more. We are able to provide immediate results to many of the samples we collect using a microscope on-site. Our firm has the ability to provide other on-site results for items that do not require use of a microscope by utilizing special real-time monitors. Some common air quality items we can provide immediate results for include volatile organic compounds (VOCs), carbon monoxide, carbon dioxide, formaldehyde, and many others. Since samples are analyzed directly on-site by our own consultants, we are able to take many samples without additional fees, keeping clients' cost low.
